Meeting Life's Challenges

BEFORE

Over the years I have known Nancy McKinney, owner of S.O.S., she has given me many ideas that I tried to implement on my own with limited success. Finally I decided to hire Nancy to help me organize my office.

The difference in trying to implement the organizing ideas on my own and working with Nancy was like night and day. Nancy shed light on the areas of my desk and office that I had been struggling with. The many questions and solutions she brought up in our meetings helped me to clarify what the problems were and why I was having trouble solving the problems on my own. I made the recommended changes and in a very short period of time, I was in control of the piles that had continued to take over my desk and office.

Working with Nancy has been a wonderful experience. I know that she truly cares about my success and the success of my business. As she worked with me and my staff, she exhibited professionalism and freely shared her experiences and knowledge.
